Product Discontinuation Announcement

Dear Valued Lantronix Customer,

The purpose of this communication is to inform you that Lantronix is discontinuing our UDS200 external device server product family.

The deadline for placing final non-cancelable, non-returnable purchase orders is April 30, 2008 and shipments must be scheduled no later than July 31, 2008*, with *availability subject to supplies on hand.   The last day of support for these products is July 31, 2009.

The replacements for the UDS200 products are the UDS2100 family of device servers listed in the table below. The RoHS compliant UDS2100 is a superior 2-port 10/100 device with increased performance, increased memory, and includes a serial cable to simplify configuration and device connectivity.

UDS2100 Serial Interface

- Two DB9M DTE serial ports – same as UDS200
- Software-selectable RS232, RS422 or RS485 (2 and 4 wire support)
- Software-selectable baud rate from 300 to 921 KBaud

UDS2100 Network Interface

- 10Base-T/100Base-TX Ethernet port
- Software selectable Ethernet speed 10/100/Auto
- Software selectable Half/Full/Auto duplex
- Wide protocols supported; ARP, UDP, TCP, ICMP, Telnet, TFTP, AutoIP, DHCP, HTTP, SNMP TCP, UDP, Telnet, and RFC2217
